UMPHRIES SETS FORTH CLAIMS FOR SUPPORT

Quotes Endorsements of Many Who Assisted in Electing Him City Alderman.

In March, 1912, a number of the best citizens of Amarillo met and put forth the names of Hugh L. Umphries and John R. Trolldinger as candidates for aldermen of Amarillo and named it the "Amarillo Ticket." On March 18, 1912, their announcement appeared in the Daily News, and the paper had the following to say editorially about them:

Umphries Acceptable.

"Both these gentlemen are well and favorably known in Amarillo Judge Umphries having formerly served the people most acceptably for a term as County Attorney of Potter County. Both these gentlemen stand high as citizens; both are energetic and thorough going men in business affairs, both enjoy enviable reputations as gentlemen whose honor and integrity are above question or suspicion. The news that they consented to stand for these positions, as it spread upon the streets, has been received with universal commendation."

On March 22, 1912, there appeared in the Amarillo Daily News, the following endorsement:

Ticket Endorsed by Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

"Believing in a clear, clean, open and above board administration of the city affairs, we take pleasure in endorsing most heartily the candidacy of these two strong, sterling, upright, progressive young Amarillo citizens, Hugh L. Umphries and John R. Trolldinger, for aldermen at the election April 1. Signed: J. W. Cradlington, J. L. Smith, W. H. Kimbrough, R. B. Newcome, A. E. Meyer, H. A. Nobles, S. P. Vinyard, J. D. Thompson, J. A. Travis, John F. Manning, John W. Britt, R. H. McAlpine, T. Gason, Sam Morris, Geo. Williams, Rev. Brahma, W. M. Rice, Lloyd Fletcher, B. F. Brooks, J. H. Poulter, W. P. Jennings, H. C. D. Byrum, A. H. Webster, Joe Wilson, O. W. Harlan, J. A. Carlisle, B. S. Mayes, R. E. Underwood, J. C. Skillman, Ed Rogers, W. J. Beck, J. F. McGregor, S. N. Green, C. C. Chennoweth, J. M. Russell, F. M. Leftwich, J. D. Bartlett, W. N. Thompson, E. E. Miller, N. S. Briggs, C. K. Chanson, H. M. Russell, W. A. Stewart, D. Gilvin, Dr. R. S. Purvis, John Kerr."

Most of these signers and a few others constituted themselves a kind of ad hoc committee to secure the election of Umphries and Trolldinger, and appointed H. A. Nobles and Jeff D. Bartlett as campaign managers, and delegated Judge W. H. Kimbrough to do their writing for them, the committee giving the Judge the information to write from. Umphries Chairman of Woodrow Wilson Club.

On the 22nd day of March this committee published in the Amarillo Daily News a letter from which we quote the following: "It is a pleasure to note in this connection that Judge Umphries was chairman of the Woodrow Wilson pre-convention committee for the whole Panhandle."

Beware of the "Bawdry" Ticket, and vote for the Amarillo Ticket." On March 25, 1912, there appeared in the Amarillo Daily News another article prepared by these partisans, from which we quote the following:

Clean, Bright, Progressive.
The Amarillo Ticket, composed of Hugh L. Umphries and John R. Trolldinger, gathers strength as the campaign progresses. Rarely has Amarillo had the opportunity to put into its City Council two such clean, bright, progressive, active young men as our ticket presents.

The fact is that the more people talk about Umphries, the more they think about him, the better they like the idea of seeing him in the City Council. When they come to think about it, there is one thing they do know about Umphries and that is that no kind of graft can grow in his neighborhood. They know that he demonstrated that to the satisfaction of everybody while he was County Attorney several years ago.

Politicians Not Afraid of His Youth.

He is no kid—not a bit of it. He knows exactly what it means to say that a public office is in public trust. The bandit of old time politicians that are trying to keep him out of the council are not afraid of his youth and inexperience. It is twaddle and nonsense. Men younger than he has been elected Congressmen, Senators and Governors. This is the day of the young man."

He Is Clean and Above Board.
No, it is not Hugh's young and inexperience. He has other qualities that the old-time, graft-loving politicians do not like. He thinks, he has ideals; he has convictions; he has courage; he has nerve and backbone; he is clean and above board. They know that when he gets into the Council, he will make a full hand; that nobody will be able to put him on the back and work him; that he will dig into things; that he knows how to investigate and get at the true inwards of things. These are the very qualities that command him to the people of Amarillo. They want an alderman that will be his own man."

On March 27, 1912, the same party published in the Amarillo Daily News still another letter from this committee from which we take the following:

Line With Modern Ideas.
"Amarillo has an opportunity to put herself in line with modern ideas on this subject by electing to her Aldermanic Board next Tuesday, Messrs. Trolldinger and Umphries, of whom it may be truthfully said, as Tennyson said of Albert, that they both bear upon their bosoms "the white flowers of a blameless life." These articles contain much more of the same laudatory nature, but are too long to publish in full."

The only argument being put out against Umphries is the same argument that these able citizens so effectively silenced in the articles quoted from.

While no new argument has been advanced generally against Umphries' election, some few are circulating a statement to the effect that they put Umphries out for alderman on a tickle that was pledged to the repeal of an ordinance taking the power of appointing policemen from the Chief of Police and putting it in the Council, and that after election Umphries refused to do as they directed about it.

The truth about that is as follows: Umphries did vote for the repeal of the ordinance when it first came up or could come up under the rules, as the record so herein cited will show. But before it came up there developed a situation, which some are now for the first time saying, showed lack of proper support by Umphries. The record shows the extraordinarily strict integrity of the man Umphries and shows him to have been what they in those articles said he was. Briefly, this occurred:

Umphries Played Square.

This committee had made H. A. Nobles and Jeff D. Bartlett its managers and spokesmen, the men to whom all must go for the wishes and directions of the committee. The first Umphries ever heard of the repeal of this ordinance being an issue was many days after the candidates were out when one of these signers told him that what they wanted was an alderman who would repeal that ordinance and allow the Chief of Police to put Ernest Hughes, a policeman appointed by the Council, out of office. Thereupon Umphries went to these managers, Bartlett and Nobles, and told them that if the putting of Hughes out of office was to be an issue in the campaign, he, Umphries, would not go further in the campaign without first telling the public that he was running on such issues and giving him a chance to work against his election. That Hughes had always been his friend and he would not deal in any other way with him for the office. Thereupon Nobles and Bartlett, acting for the committee, told Umphries, "Don't pay any attention to that Go and get the support of Ernest Hughes for this ticket if you can. We want all the votes we can get." Thereupon Umphries did go and get this support and the ticket was elected. Shortly afterward some of these parties demanded that Policeman Hughes be put out of office, and Umphries denounced R. D. Gilvin for his political pifinity.

Umphries Voted for Repeal of Ordinance.

But by the time the ordinance could be acted upon, Hughes resigned and all differences were removed. Umphries and Trolldinger were sworn in on April 14, 1912, but before any action was had it was desired that a vacancy in the council be filled. W. N. Thompson was sworn in to fill this vacancy on May 6, 1912. (Minutes Book 4, p. 86.) Ordinance No. 751, repealing 224, the objectionable ordinance was introduced June 3, 1912 (Book 4, p. 82). Under the rules it had to be over one meeting. At the next meeting, on June 17, 1912, it was voted upon and passed. Umphries, Trolldinger and Thompson voting for it. (Book 4, p. 97.)

Citizens Satisfied With Umphries.

All members of this committee, and all of those signers were then well satisfied. All of them would still be satisfied had it not become necessary for some of them to hunt something to circulate against Umphries in this District Judge's race. Umphries and his friends have been fair in this campaign. They have circulated nothing against either of Umphries' opponents. They have stood and are standing alone upon the merits of Umphries. They do not think that any other kind of campaign is worthy of any one aspiring to fill so high and dignified an office. We ask the voters to find out all they can about the three candidates and then vote for the one who in their opinion will make them the best District Judge.

J. T. "TROY" THOMPSON

District Clerk and Candidate for Elective Term.

Mr. Thompson is the present District Clerk, he being appointed on April 11 to fill the unexpired term of M. H. Hardin. He took charge of the office at the beginning of the last term of the District Court, promptly familiarizing himself with the duties of that office and in that short term has shown that he is in every way qualified. He has performed the duties of the office with efficiency, regularity, promptness and impartiality. He is a young man who is working hard to make a success in life and will greatly appreciate the support of the voters of Potter county for the office of District Clerk, to which he aspires.

Mr. Thompson has thus far conducted the affairs of his office in a manner satisfactory to all, and it is to be hoped that he will continue to do so.

Mr. Thompson has promised to continue to perform his duties in a fair and impartial manner.

Mr. Thompson has thus far conducted the affairs of his office in a manner satisfactory to all, and it is to be hoped that he will continue to do so.
